WHAT WE TAKE FROM IT

Colour is the model year.

AION ships three named cabin themes per car, so a CMF change does the work a facelift used to — cheap, fast, visible in a showroom photograph. Our colourways have no names and no launch moment. Give them both.

Comfort moved down a segment.

Zero-gravity seating and massage crossed below ¥130k in April 2026 — the AION N60 at ¥109,800, with LiDAR standard. Every comfort assumption under ¥150k has to be re-baselined against that car, not last year's segment.

WHAT EACH PRICE STEP BUYS
Read off the shipping specification, not the brochure copy.

¥70 – 110k

Fixed seats, manual recline. The differentiator is a flat-fold bed across the whole cabin, not adjustment.

AION UT

¥110 – 130k

Zero-gravity co-pilot seat standard. Front heating, ventilation, massage and memory. Rear backrest 117–137°.

AION N60

¥115 – 160k

"Eight-layer comfort sofa" fronts with 8-point massage; dual-tone split and 32-colour ambient.

AION i60

¥170 – 250k

Rear reclines to 137° on a zero-gravity cloud leg rest. Massage in six modes at three intensities. 17.3" ceiling screen.

TRUMPCHI XIANGWANG S7

¥250k +

2+2+2, captain chairs, 18-point massage, 12-way power, zero-gravity at 127.5°. At the A800: 27" W-HUD, 6,536 mm ambient run, ANC, L3 on the highway.

HYPTEC HL · A800

Above ¥170k, the second row is the product.

Every Trumpchi over that line is sold on recline angle, leg rest and a 17.3" ceiling screen. Design the rear seat first and the dashboard second.
